

19
Fayssoux Collection
Catalog number 131
1842-1846

Box 4
Folder 131

3 items

1846 By request of Com^d E W Moore was present at a meeting of Commodore Moore T. N. & Sam Houston President Texas and Comm.
Stockton U. S. Navy, a Friend of Moore, Moore denounced in the said
most bitter terms S Houston --- Commodore Stockton, are you aware that you are walking with the damnedest scoundrel on the face of the earth, the damnedest villian unhung. Com^d Stockton Com.
said to Moore, take my arm Moore, they walked off together
S. Houston turned and walked off alone--it was dropped by Houston...

131 Fayssoux Collection of William Walter Papers
Middle American Research Institute Library
Tulane University

Written for a Meeting of the Ladies of Galveston to be presented as an expression of feelings towards the officers of our Navy and their gallant friends who have embarked every thing in the cause of freedom and for the suppression of Slavery. By a Lady of Galveston.

We meet to think our gallant friends -
 And honor deeds of glory.
 Each grateful heart its tribute sends
 And fame shall tell the story.
 We thank thee that in France we're here
 And smiling friends to meet us
 We thank thee that at our homes so dear
 The peace and joy shall greet us
 We're gallant heart hearts upon the land Protection still to yield us
 By Sea our noble "Squad" guard
 From danger now shall shield us
 With Heaven's blessings on our arms
 No doubt or dread we see
 Our Country and our homes and lands
 From Tyrants shall be free.

"Now may success attend your way
 Your banner with Lure's chosen
 And glorious efforts gain each day
 And fame your valorous sound
 And when your thunder shakes each tower
 And sound from shore to shore
 Each traitor's knave in fear shall cower
 And Anna you shall cry no more."

Galveston May 24th 1843

1846 1846
By request of Comd. E. Moore was present at a meeting of Commodore Moore U.S. Com. Houston President Texas and Com.
Stackton U.S. Navy, a friend of Moore, Moore denounced in the most bitter terms the Houston - Commodore Stackton, are you aware that you are walking the with the damndest scoundrel on the face of the earth, the damndest villain unhang.
Comd. Stackton said to Moore, take my arm Moore, they walked off together Houston, bowed and escorted by Commodore dropped by Houston - The cause of the attack was Houston had published proclaimed Moore and his officers Pirates and crimed on the civilized world to treat them as such, when they were in the presence of men fighting the Mexican Navy, consisting of three steamers and four sailing vessels, armed with long heavy guns
Moore had one 24 lb and two 32 lb small and short guns from the brig off

Philad^a May 30th 1842

My Dear friend.

It affords me a pleasure to have an opportunity to write to you even though it be to introduce a friend - I have just been informed the bearer of this Mr Calender Fayssoux has been appointed a midshipman in the Navy your indefatigable exertions have placed upon so respectable a footing with those of other nations (for you must know it is well spoken of here)

I request you will allow me to introduce him to you as a worthy young Gentleman & who will I have no doubt in time prove an Acquisition to the Service -

All our differences with England on which, to be settled amicably - Congress are pursuing the Army & Navy with a view of

Saving a few dollars sooner than to fix a tariff that would support the government - Small business

Your Obedt servant

Wm Moore

Com Ex-Nav

J. J. Abner

Capt US Army

W. D.

W. D.

I am on the run of reputation for the last time for I beg you will excuse this hasty letter.

Com. Moore
Com. Texian Navy
by Midshipman
C. Fagssouff